BODY:

Have you ever seen school assemblies that were boring and failed to hold your students' attention?

Or maybe your school hosted a school assembly program that was fun, amazing, and interactive...but the message was weak.

Now more than ever, you need a program that doesn't waste your students' and teachers' time. Your kids deserve an assembly program that excites kids, fires up their imagination, and gets them involved.

And the program needs to cover curriculum-based subjects like reading, science, and math.

Sounds like a tall order. Fortunately, I can help.

I'm Joe Romano and for the last 30 years, I've captivated thousands of students each year in schools across the country with my amazing, interactive, magic-filled school assembly programs.

H2:

School Principals, Faculty, & PTA/PTO Parents Praise My School Assemblies for Balancing Fun and Education in one 45-Minute Extravaganza

BODY:

Here's what one client said:

"Amazing! My kids thought the assembly rocked...but the best part...was when Joe got the kids quiet at the end of the show...this is a teacher's dream! Thank you Joe Romano!"

- Cheryl Vaughn, 1st grade teacher- Twin Hickory Elementary School - Henrico County, VA

And that's just the tip of the iceberg. I have a file cabinet full of letters and emails school principals, teachers, and PTA/PTO parents have written to me after performing my school assemblies at their schools.

Let's face it: Holding the attention of 300-400 students for an entire school assembly program is not easy. So how do I do it? I use several presentational 'hooks' to grab the attention of students and hold them the entire time. Here's just a few ways:

A Visual Treat: Imagine this. Your students walk into the assembly area. They immediately notice bright, colorful backdrops and banners. It's a feast for the eyes and gets them interested and engaged before the show even starts!

Kid-Friendly Magic: Kids love magic! I use incredible amazing magic that ‘wows’ your youngest students while holding the attention of the harder-to-please older grades. They won’t believe what they’re seeing!

Interactive Fun: People of all ages already spend enough time passively watching things on TV, YouTube, and more. Elementary school students love my shows because they get to be involved! Depending on the school show I’m presenting, your kids might help make the magic happen, participate in wild science experiments, or solve a math problem using their super powers!

Belly Laughs Galore: Scientific data shows kids (and adults!) benefit from laughter.* It lowers stress, has major health benefits, and can help us stay mentally healthy. Learning is an important subject, one to be taken seriously. But injecting some humor into our learning helps everyone!

Music & Sound effects: The ‘wow’ factor when kids see my backdrops is magnified with catchy, toe-tapping music! I use music and fun sound effects to bring even more life and fun to the show. No dry “Ferris Bueller’s teacher” lecturing in these assembly programs!

H2: But It’s Not Just Mindless Fun. My School Shows Reinforce Your School’s Curriculum

BODY:

There are a lot of school performers who can get your students whipped up into a frenzy. But many don’t have the skills to weave in important messages.

My clients love my assemblies because I’m an expert at getting the messages, concepts, and lessons across in a way your kids will absorb and remember.

But don’t take my word for it. Here’s what another school client had to say about my ability to get complex lessons across to students:

“Joe Romano has a way of engaging students and keeping them focused as he delivers messages about the importance reading...Highly recommended!”

- Principal Harry Walker - Sandy Plains Elementary School - Baltimore, MD

That’s just one school praising my ability to combine fun with important lessons. By now you might be wondering...
